WHO WE ARE

Our History

The Las Vegas Global Economic Alliance (LVGEA) is an economic development organization serving the Las Vegas Valley.

It is one of eight regional development authorities (RDA) designated by the Nevada Governor's Office of Economic Development and the only RDA serving Southern Nevada. The LVGEA was created in 2012, although its economic development roots trace back to 1956, when the organization was originally formed as the Southern Nevada Industrial Foundation. Since its inception, the organization's principal mission has been to attract, retain, expand businesses, and diversify the local economy. During the past 67 years, LVGEA has worked with thousands of local businesses seeking to grow and new businesses looking to relocate or expand into the Las Vegas Valley, and in doing so, helped contribute to diversification efforts in the region. It's important to note that all of LVGEA's work is made possible through partnerships and investors who have given their time, expertise, and dollars to create this success. LVGEA by no means does this work in a vacuum.

WHO WE ARE

Our Vision

Together is better.

“Working hard for something we love is called passion.”

(Simon Sinek, Together is Better)

Fast-forward to a Las Vegas Valley 10 years from now and it will evoke a vibrant and interconnected community where diverse stakeholders collaborate harmoniously to enhance the prosperity of all residents. Our region will seamlessly join forces to act as a driving force for prioritized regional projects and grant opportunities. Substantial infrastructure investments will continue to beckon businesses to our area. Educational pathways will expand, providing accessible routes for career seekers and diverse employers. Our natural resources, including water, will continue to be among the world’s most well-maintained systems, attracting unique and innovative industries to the region. Entrepreneurs will increasingly find our international connections and global brand enticing for their start-ups. Through partnerships, shared values, and a united regional identity, Southern Nevada and its residents will be better together.

To realize this vision, we must embark on an accelerated path to solidify the burgeoning innovation-driven economy, one that takes on the global challenges of climate change, disruptive technologies, and shared prosperity. LVGEA is dedicated to bringing together business, community, civic, and policy leaders to not only facilitate a dialogue towards this transformative goal, but to successfully attract diverse business and industry to benefit our region.

The economic priorities outlined in this action plan represent the initial areas of focus in shaping the region’s future, with a clear emphasis on fostering future competitiveness and promoting inclusive economic endeavors.

So, how can we advance this action plan? By fostering efforts that encompass community and stakeholder involvement. And how can we measure its impact on the Las Vegas region? Through continuous collaboration that promotes meaningful conversations, identifies growth opportunities, and supports the region we serve, all while evaluating progress through annual economic assessments.

This plan is designed to pinpoint a series of targeted actions that can be achieved within the next year. These actions are meant to serve as catalysts, sparking new ideas and initiatives, and ultimately initiating a process of economic innovation and systemic change within our regional economic systems. In 2024, LVGEA will redouble its efforts in business development activities, distinct from what we've seen in recent years. These priorities encompass specific regional actions that can guide us toward the desired future, grouped under three key themes:

WHO WE ARE: OUR VISION

- 1. Champion the Las Vegas Business Brand
- 2. Lead Regional Business Attraction
- 3. Deliver Value and Return on Investment for Our Community Partners

Anyone can envision a more prosperous future, but it takes genuine collaboration among all regional stakeholders to identify tangible strategies that turn that vision into reality. In Southern Nevada, we are fortunate to possess a deep well of industry and community leadership. This strength is reflected in experienced industry leaders and managers, as well as the wealth of talent within various organizations, including state and local economic development agencies, private sector partnerships, chambers, trade associations, elected bodies, and certainly among the LVGEA50 board.

However, there is still much work ahead to future-proof our region and strengthen our adaptive capacity. This is a never-ending endeavor in any market. Strong regional leadership will be pivotal in building a future that benefits our community. Indeed, our future hinges on the capacity and willingness of our leaders to rally as a region, anticipate future trends, and develop swift responses.

LVGEA is fully prepared for this challenge and is not alone in this endeavor. Only through collaboration with partners throughout the region can the Las Vegas region truly flourish and become better – together.
